By Telegraph to The Times.
YUMA, (Ariz.,) Feb. 27.—[By the Associated Press.] The water reached the highest point at 11 o'clock last The convent of St. Jonight. Every pusiness house washed down. seph, the A. O. U. W. Hall, the express, telegraph and postoffice were leveled to the ground. The railroad and steamboat offices were swept into the Colorado River. The railroad ice house and the track at the foot of Mair street were washed away.

Five hundred men worked last night to save property, but met with little success. The town and property are now guarded by members of the Yuma Rifles, who have been sworn in as dep uty sheriffs.

The water is now falling here, bu reports of farther rises have been received from above and east, which, if reports are correct, will entirely sweep Yuma away. The railroads both ways are impassable.

THE INUNDATION AT CLIFTON.
CLIFTON (Ariz.) Feb. 27.—Th river has risen again. Property has been destroyed, railroads demolished dams and flumes swept away. Work has been suspended by both the Ari-zona and Detroit copper mining com-panies. The south approach to the iron bridge here and the entire iron bridge at Guthrie, twelve miles south, are gone. It is impossible to estimate the damage now. This re-port will be sent on a handcar to Dun-can, thirty-eight miles south. Ex-travagant reports of the destruction of farms in the Gila Valley have been re-ceived. ceived.

ONLY TWO BUILDINGS LEFT. SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 27.—Dis patches received by railroad official from Yuma today say that every build from Yuma today say that every building in the town except the Southern Pacific Hotel and the peniteritary have been destroyed by the flood. Last night the Gila spd Colorado rivers rose thirty-three feet above low-water mark. The passenger and freight depots were both flooded, and the water rose to a level with the bridge across the Colorado River. In order to prevent the bridge from being carried away by the freight depot being set afloat, the building was blown up with dynamite.

THE RIVER FALLING.

THE RIVER FALLING. This morning the river dropped seventeen inches in one bour, and Yumi residents are feeling less anxious. All the country eastward for twenty miles is under water, and the Southern Pacific tracks are washed out for fully that distance. Trains are running between El Paso and Tucson, but west-bound passengers are held at Tucson.

WRECKED TIA JUANA.

Only a Few Houses Standing—The People Suffering. SAN DIEGO, Feb. 27.—[By the Asso-ciated Press.] Tonight parties who came up from Tia Juana for aid for the sufferers, report that at least seventy people are quartered in the schoolhouse, and the few structures left standing in the flooded district with absolutely nothing to eat, and but few clothes. Farmers in the neigh-borhood have fed the homeless people since the flood.

The funeral pageant was the longest ever seen in the islands. The catafalque was sur-mounted by a pyramidal dome resting mounted by a pyramidal dome resting on pillars covered with black cloth, entwined with ribbons of silk. At the top of each pillar waved a heavy black plume with a white tip. The casket was an elaborate plece of native workmanship. The band from the Charleston headed the procession, and was followed by the officers and a detachment of marines from the Charleston, Mohican and H. B. M. S. Nymphe and others. Col. Faukra acted as marshal. At the royal mausoleum the ceremonies were conducted by the Bishop of Honolulu and Master Mason Phillips, a native choir, chanting at intervals. During the progress of the funeral coriége minute guns were fired from the men-of-war in the harbor and belis tolled in the city.

The Lawrence Murder Trial at Santa Barbara.

SANTA BARBARA, Feb. 27.—|Special.] It now begins to look as if the trial of Dr. Lawrence for murder would soon end. The celebrated de-fendent was on the stand in his own behalf this afternoon, and told his tale of woe in a queer manner. He possesses a very treacherous memory, but remembers many family jars. But in nearly all cases the defendant said he was more or less intoxicated. On the evening of November 8, however, Mrs. Lawrence, so witness said, had been friendly spirit, though she regretted of woe in a queer manner. He pos-sesses a very treacherous memory, but drinking, and assaulted defendant by catching him by his whiskers. He shook her loose, but had not injured her in any manner to cause death

A Powerful Syndicate Formed at Chicago.
CHICAGO, Feb. 27.—[By the Associated Press. A local paper says the largetype-founders of the country have shout effected a consolidation of their interests. The capital involved is reported to be $6,000,000. The establish ment of uniform prices and the protection of printers are said to be the chief reasons for the consolidation of the thirty odd foundries. Wholesale cutting of prices has been the rule of late. and owing to this, the plants of print-ers have been decreasing in value, en-abling new firms to put in entire new plants at half the cost of them laid in before the demoralization. Emperor William Resents the Insult to His Mother by Putting the Screws Upon Alsace and Lorraine.

By Telegraph to The Times.

LONDON, Feb. 27.—[Copyright by the New York Associated Press.] Quite a sensation was caused by the report of the quarrel between the Queen and the Prince of Wales at Portsmouth yesterday. It seems that the Prince heard through the foreign office alarming accounts of the position of ex-Empress Frederick, in Paris. He decided to go and bring her away, and wired his sis-ter to leave immediately if she could not wait for him. ' He also telegraphed the Queen. When he joined the Queen at Portsmouth, Her Majesty was greatly excited, and was heard to

THE EMPRESS LEAVES PARIS. PARIS, Feb. 27.-Empress Frederick of Germany left Paris this morning. No unpleasant incident marked the departure. The gravity of the situation however, can be judged from the fact that, under advice from high quarters, the Empress changed her route for fear of being insulted. It was publicly announced yesterday evening, and again this morning, that the Empress Frederick intended to leave for Calais at 11:30 s. m., but she left two hours earlier and was driven rapidly to Gare du Nord, where she entered the train for Boulogne. The Empress, however, will not embark for England at that port, but will proceed from there to Calais, where a royal yacht is awaiting her. In spite of the precautions several hundred people gathered around Gare du Nord. They were civil and quiet, the majority of the men taking off their hats as the Empress passed. There were no insulting cries of any description.

The Empress and her party arrived at Gare Du Nord in three landaus. Police officials had taken every precaution to protect the Empress, a body of over 500 policemen being at the depot. The Empress was accompanied by the staff of the German embassy. Count Von Munster and a number of police accompanied the Empress to Boulogne and from there to Calais. The Empress appeared perfectly calm and cordially bade adieu to all.

At the reception yesterday evening Gervex, the painter, was presented to the Empress. O behalf of a portion of the French artists he expressed the regret they felt at not being able to send works of art to the Berlin Expo-No unpleasant incident marked the departure. The gravity of the situation

Your committee to whom was referred the special recommendations contained in the inaugural address of President Wells, beg leave to make the following report:

First—We deem the suggestion of the president that all committees be required to meet for the consideration of business, at the rooms of the chamber at 2:30 p. m., immediate, preceding the regular monthly meeting, to be both wise and at inney and recommend the passage of the following resolution:

Resolved, that it shall be the duty of all regular and special committees, having business before them, to meet at the office of the chamber at 7:30 p. m. on the day of the regular monthly meeting, for the preparation of their reports.

Second.—We believe that the setting apart of a certain time for the reception of the citizes of Los Angeles and surrounding country, at the chamber where the permanent exhibit is maintained, will result in a largely increased membership, and tend to promate harmony and good-fellowship, and we recommend that the chamber take definite action upon the subject.

Third.—We heartily approve the recommendation of the president in regard to the retiring president of the chamber so far as concerns the honorary mambers, and submitthe following for your consideration:

Resolved.—That ex-presidents of this MONEY LOANED BY T. C. NARAMORE, Wilson Block, for 9 per cent. in city

TO ORANGE GROWERS-

The Fruit Growers' Union of Southern California was incorporated Jan. 31, 1891.

The Union, with offices at No. 233 W. First st., Los Angoles, is now ready for business.

This is simply an association of fruit growers, and all Interested are requested to subscribe for the stock.

The amount required of each grower to become a member is but very small, and but little reflection and calculation will convince any grower that whether or not be ships through the Union, it will pay him well to keep just such an irestitution in existence and ready—at all times for business. Copies of the by-laws can be had at the office. Subscriptions for stock will be received by the manager or any of the directors.

The Union will furnish boxes and paper when desired at best rates.

Please notify the manager at once at above address of the number of boxes, kind and quality of fruit you wish to ship.

THE ROADS GETTING IN SHAPE.

The Santa Fe Gets Around a Diffi-culty—The Southern Pacific Pulling Through—The Incoming Trains.

Southern Pacific's Arcade depot, which after a week of quietude, once more presented a scene of bustle and animation. Train No. 18, for San Francisco, was billed to leave on time, at 1:35 p. m., but did not get started until 2:05, owing to the fact that so many passengers were eager to travel and there was an exceptionally heavy load of baggage. When the long train, draws by two engines, left the station, the road was not yet all clear to San Francisco, though it was expected that by the time it reached Tejungs the bridge would be so far repaired as to permit a safe passage and also allow the southbound train to ST. and 10:40 p. m., will go promptly on time. Incoming trains will be more or less late, as in some places slow running will be necessary.

By transferring passenters at the Monte the Southern Pacific is able to do business between Les Angeles and Colton. At the latter point a bridge must be built before trains can run farther eastward. Reports received yesterday afternoon by the railroad officials said that the water had ceased to rise at Yuma and the bridge would probably be saved, though the town is almost gone. Gangs of workmen are at every point that can be reached, putting in their best efforts to patch up the breaks.

Arrangements were made to bring in the delayed Santa Fé trains by way of Mojave and the Southern Pacific, to arrive as soon as possible after the trains from San Francisco. One train from the Atlantic and Pacific left Barstow at 10 a. m. yesterday and is expected in Los Angeles at an early hour this morning. This will place a great quantity of mail in the post-mice today and will provide plenty of work for the attachés of that establishment. It was necessary to repair a bridge west of Barstow before the Santa Fé train could reach the Southern Pacific track at Mojave.

The work of restoring the Southern Caifornia lines is progressing satisfactorily, but some time must elapse hefore traffic can be resumed. It is expected to reach San Bernardino tonight. The line to Santa Ana and San Juan is in such a bad shape that travel to San Diego will not be possible until the middle of next week at the earliest. It is stated that the road through Temecula Cafion suffered comparatively little from the flood, but at Perris these is a bad washout, which interferes with business on the San Jaeinto branch. The line to Santa Fé overland train will leave the First-street depot at 10 a. m. today, and run by way of Mojave for the East. It, is expected that this arrangement of starting the train two hours earlier than usual will enable it to make the run to the East. it is good time. This will be the daily rule unti Cajon Pass is repaired, when the old plan will be resumed.

FIRENO'S AMBITION.

Information comes from Fresno that the San Joaquin Valley railroad project has been revived, and that city is destined to be the westgen terminus. Marcus Poliasky, the railroid "promoter." was there the other day and promised that the road would be built from Fresno to the mountains if the citizens would donate ample terminal facilities, the right of way to the foothills, and the sum of $100,000 in cash. The objective point of the other end of this line is not clearly stated, but is supposed to be somewhere up in the mountains headed toward the Minarets. Fresno wants the road, and the traffic in lumber and ore it would bring, and will try to raise the required bonus.

THE LOWER CALIFORNIA ROAD.

San Diego will try by all means to secure the line of railroad from San Quintin, in Lower California. The road is projected from San Quintin to Yuma, but San Diego is hoping that it can be diverted from a point in the interior called Trinidad Pass, so as to make that city the northern terminus. It is not apparent why such a road should be built, but if it is, say San Diegoans, it must not go to Yuma—which it will not do, provided San Diego makes inducements sufficient to change the plans of the promoters.

It was decided to hold a public reception for the benefit of the citizens and visitors in the chamber once a month, the day to be fixed by the president. It was also decided that the president appoint a committee of three to assist him.

A motion to make all retiring ex-presidents honorary members of the chamber was about to be put, when I resident Wells left the chair and, in a brief speech, opposed the motion. He believed that in making honorary members each individual case should come before the chamber and be voted on.

Maj. Jones, late president of the chamber, was then voted an honorary member.

L. N. Breed, treasurer of the chamber, reported, showing that the rent fund has 58, the entertainment fund $11.85, and the general fund has been over-drawn $300. Referred to the Finance Committee.

The secretary showed that there are dues outstanding amounting to $907. The income is $540 a month, and the expense is $450. This shows that something must be done at once to increase the membership.

Mr. Germain thinks the income should be $600 a month. He proposed that steps be taken at once to raise money sufficient to pay off the present indebtedness.

Judge Anderson thought that three committees to canvass the city should be appointed.

Some of the members thought that the financial condition of the Chamber should not be made public, and that each member should try and bring in enough new members to pay off the indebtedness.

Messra. Breed and Howard thought that each business man and property-owner in the city should be waited upon and asked to assist in keeping the chamber up, as each and every one is benefitted by the chamber.

The matter was referred to the Committee of Ways and Means with instructions to go to work at once.

President Wells thinks the chamber should have money enough to go out and buy exhibits when needed.

The motion to refer the matter to the Committee of Ways and Means was put and carried.

Mr. Cruise has been suffering from sickness for some time, which has reduced him to his present condition.
Reports came in from El Monte yesterday, stating that the river at that place had done a great deal of damage in that locality to farm property. Mr. Dodson's house and barn were both washed away; Mr. McElhany's barn also went down the river, and Mr. Prouty, too, lost his barn in the flood. The river has left its old bed, which was about two miles east of El Monte, and has now located itself west of that place, and has made for itself a channel about a thousand feet wide, while it has cut into the soil until its banks are now about ten feet high. The river at that point is still up and unsafe to ford.

THE WINONA SCANDAL.

Sensational Developments in the Case Yesterday.

A MIXED STATE OF AFFAIRS.

All Sorts of Charges Against th Landlady by John Long - A Shower of Affidavits and

The question as to whether or not the receiver of the Winona House, a fashionable family hotel on Temple street, should be discharged, was what agitated Judge Shaw in Department Five of the Superior Court yesterday.

The developments which ensued from an investigation of the case were of a most sensational character. To use a common phrase, they were rich, rare and racy.

It was about January 16 that John Long, an elderly man, and a pretty little woman an elderly man, and a pretty little wom an elderly man, and a pretty little woman named Mrs. L. Dumont, entered into a business partnership to conduct the Winona. Long put up the money necessary as against Mrs. Dumont's experience and managerial ability. But things did not run smooth. Mr. Long and Mrs. Dumont quarreled. Finally, on February 5, they came together and Long swore at Mrs. Dumont and maitreated her, so she claims.

Ligon, whom he claimed was intimate with the landiady.

Then Long was arrested and put under bonds to keep the peace.

On February 7 Long filed a complaint asking that a receiver for the house be appointed. In this complaint he alleged that about January 16, being friendly with Mrs. Dumont, and desirous of furnishing her with a means of making her living, he purchased the Winona and its furniture, good will, etc., for $3000, the money to be repald to him by Mrs. Dumont out of the profits of the house; that at the time the said Mrs. Dumont intended to cheat and defraud him of the purchase money; that she did not keep proper accounts of the receipts of the house and refused to furnish him with board and lodging as she had agreed to do; that she was insolvent and intended to dispuse of the lease to the hotel to some innocent purchaser.

To this complaint Mrs. Dumont's attorneys demurred and filed a cross complaint. In this latter document she alleged that she was not insolvent; that she had means of her own and did not intend to defraud Long of his $3000. In fact, she entered a general denial to all of the allegations of the complaint. Further answering, Mrs. Dumont alleged

that when she assumed the reins of power at the Whoma it was fuil of lodgers, and the business was paying; that January 29
Long made her a proposition to cohabit with him as his mistress, which proposition she indignantly refused; that on the day following Long insisted on her canceling her lease to the house, which she refused; that from January 29, to February 25, he prowied around the house, disturbing roomers, causing them to lose sleep, and ultimately leave the house, and resulting in cutting down the profits of the house;
that Long threatened to kill her, and showed her a revolver on one coassion; that he did, after February 1, endeavor to persuade roomers to leave the house, and did endeavor to injure her character; that he advised her help—and tradespeople from whom she purchased goods, to look out for her or she would defraud them of moneys due.

Mrs. Dumont asked damages in the sum of $2000 for the injury done her by Long, in acting as she claims he did. She also asked for the discharge of the receiver; that his being kept there had entailed upon hor a loss of $1000. (S. J. Stratton had previously been appointed receiver by the court.)

Yesterday morning a number of affidayits were presented on the part of Mrs. Dumont, going to show that she had conducted the lodging house properly during the brief period she ran it, and that until the disturbance created by Long, on January 30, there was no complaint among the guests. The affidayits of some of the help were also read to prove that Long had advised them to look out or Mrs. Dumont would defraud them of their wages. Affidayits of roomers were also read to the effect that Long wandered through the beause at unseemly hours, creating a noise and disturbing guests; that he on occasions used profame and yuigar language in a loud and boisterous tone of of voice.

John Long, in support of his case, pre-

John Long, in support of his case, presented numerous affidavits going to prove that Mrs. Dumont was unduly intimate with W. S. Ligon. He made an affidavit himself which was read, and in which he alleged that as soon as he had lurnished Mrs. Dumont money to purchase the lodging house she proceed to abuse and to treat him unciviliy; that on February 5 he was ejected from the house by the lady when his trunk and effects were landed upon the sidewalk; that he never asked her to cohabit with him; that on January 17 W. S. Ligon applied for a room at the house; that Mrs. Dumopt and he pretended to be strangers to each other; that after Ligon had been in the house several days he (Long) came unawares upon him in the haliway caressing Mrs. Dumont and that later he found Ligon issuing from Mrs. Dumont's room at 7 o'clock in the morning, that this undue familiarity between Mrs. Dumont and Ligon issuing from Mrs. Dumont and Ligon had the affect of giving the house a hard name, and caused boardors to leave.

John further averred in his affidavit that Mrs. Dumont and Ligon were not strangers as she represented; that he had seen them together in Portiand, Or.; that after the roomers commenced to complain of the relations existing between Mrs. Dumont and Ligon, he went to her and remonstrated; that at this she became indignant and insulting; that he told her that he believed she was keeping Ligon, to which she repiled: "Well, he is kept by me, and what are you going to do about it;" that Mrs. Dumont made his acquaintance and gained his confidence to defraud him, and that Ligon is defraud him, and that Ligon is he was advised that she was going to run the house in debt and leave the bills for him to pay.

Long also made the startling charge in his affidavit that Mrs. Dumont was addicted to cigarette sunoking which, when he purchased the house for her, she promised to cease, but did not and that all this caused annoyance and disgust to the boarders.

In addition to this, in Long's behalf, the affidavit of John W. Spencer was re Dumont.

Other affidavits as to the close relations existing between Mrs. Dumont and Lipon and the effect that it had in causing an exodus of boarders from the house, were read.

An affidavit made by J. J. Young, who keeps a loiding house at $42\%2$ North Main street, was read. In this affidavit she swears that on February 20 last, Ligon procured a room at her heuse, that on the freemon of that day she observed Mrs. Dumont entering the room; that she thereupon went to the room and rapped; that Ligon opened the door and introduced Mrs. Dumont as his wife; that Mrs. Dumont wisited Ligon's rooms on several occasions; that after one of these calls when Ligon we mouth in his room, affinit we will not loave one for the calls when Ligon we make the following note on the mantel left by her:

"Must see you today, Will you call at 2:30 this afternoon? Don't make any new acquaintances and don't answer any questious for anybody. There is a job on hand, somebody came and put me on."

The testimony of Mrs. Dumont, taken before a notary public, was also read. In that Other affidavits as to the close relations evidence she swore that it was between the middle and the latter part of January when Loug asked her to cohabit with him. She was sitting in her room at the time. In response to this proposal she told him:

"No sir, I will do nothing of the klad. You ought to be abhamed of yourself to speak of such things."

On a prior occasion in Portland, Or., Long made a proposal to her to live with him. It was in the Standard Theatre where she made Long's acquaintance that he made the proposal to her.

Touching money and jewelry Mrs. Dumont swore that she has about $500 cash, some diamond rings, etc.

The testimony of W. S. Ligon, taken before a notary, was also read, It was to the effect that he had never known Mrs. Dumont prior to January 17, and had never been in Portland.

Judge Shaw will hear arguments in the case on Monay next in Department Six.

SOCIETY.

SUMMER AMUSEMENTS. Society people and pleasure seekers generally are already looking forward to summer amusements, and the outlook for a gay time at the various watering-places in South ern California during the coming summer was never better. All the hotels will be open, and more attention will be paid to pleasure than ever before. The old scheme of bleeding guests to death and giving them of bleeding guests to death and giving them as little as possible in return, will be done away with this summer, and the hotel men at the seaside will spend a portion of their gains in devising pleasure parties for their guests. This is done in other summer resorts, and there is no reason why it should not be done in this country. If public places are properly conducted in Southern California there is no reason why thousands of society people who go away from home during the heated term should not be drawn here.

There are quite a number of pickpockets in the city, besides numerous fakirs, who peddle small articles is the outskirts, for the purpe of finding out what they can about houses, with a view to future operations, and citizens can not be too careful about seeing that doors are securely locked, and movable articles, such as lawn mowers, garden hose, etc., placed in a safe place. The police authorities are looking out for suspicious characters, and whenever one is caught he is taken to the station, exhibited to the officers and given the shortest possible time in which he can get out of town. During the past two or three days several "suspects," male and female, have been taken to police headquarters, and their pictures taken. In case of any robbery, the matter should at once be reported at police headquarters.

lime rock, and also with gravel, but these had been abandoned, on account of the expense. He believed that the city was compelled to keep the street in repair, as it had once been graded. But what he wanted to call attention to in particular was the fact that by work done by the city, a large amount of water had been diverted on Figueros street, which, in case of rain, converted the street into a water-way, to the great inconvenience of property-owners along the street. The city had cut away a natural barrier that had protected the street, since which time there had been great inconvenience from the water. He thought that as it was by the city's work the nuisance had been created, the city should take care of the street, and keep it in proper condition.

Councilman Bonsail briefly outlined the street law, showing that all street improvements must be made at the expense of the property abutting on the same.

Maj. Horace Beil also addressed the Conneil, saying that he thought the city should care for the street until such time as the property owners saw fit to pave it. He was not in favor of paving it at this time, nor did he favor a gravel street. He preferred to wait until the people were able to make permanent improvements.

Councilman McGarry thought that the proper thing to do was for the councilmen, together with the citizens present, urrisg the immediate passage of the bill providing for the issuance of bonds for street paving, and that a telegram be sent to Senator Carpenter and Assemblyman Mathews asking them touse their efforts to secure its immediate passage. Mr. McGarry put his suggestion in the form of a motion, which passed unanimously.

Councilman McGarry stated that the Board of Public Works, together with the city should be proved to the Council and City Engineer, had been over the ground at the corner of Second and Pearl streets, at the head waters of the Arroys de ios Reyes, with a view to building a stormdrain to the river at the nearest accessible point, with a view to solving the water problem, but no definite conclusion had been reached.

Some time ago the Council passed an or-dinance for the erection of a bridge over the Arroyo de los Pasas at State street, in Boyle Heights. It was urged by Mr. Rees, dinance for the erection of a bridge over the Arroyo de los Pasas at State street, in Boyle Heights.—It was urged by Mr. Rees, the Councilman from the Ninth Ward, and quite a number of -citizens, that such a bridge was a necessity, to avoid a long deton around by way of the Mission road, and that in ease it was built considerable traffic would be diverted to State street, and a large section of country would be accommodated, and on these representations the plans were, and the contract for the construction of the bridge was let to J. L. Bates for 1941, the Mayor being requested to sign on behalf of the city. Mayor Hazard, however, declined to sign the contract, and in a message to Council gave his reasons, saying that it would be better to put in a five-foot culvert. The matter twas then referred back to the Board of Public Works and Bridge Committee, and, after a further investigation, the coutract was again passed over the Mayor's veto, and the President of the Council was requested to sign on behalf of the city. Mr. Bonsail yesterday filed with the City Clerk the following document, which will be presented to the Council Monday:

Los Angeles, (Cal.,) Feb. 27.—To the Honorable City Council of Los Angeles, CENTLEMEN: Some weeks ago the Mayor sent a message to the Council, giving his reasons for not signing a contract with one J. L. Bates for the construction of a small bridge and earthwork approaches across the Arroyo de los Posas at State street.

Notvithstanding the Mayor's refusal, your honorable body at its last meeting, by a unanimous vote, requested the President of the Cunneil to sign the contract for and in behalf of the city. This action was taken after the united investigation of the Board of Public Works and the Bridge Committee.

The case that presented itself to me was an instance where one official of the city

The case that presented itself to me was

The case that presented itself to me was an instance where one official of the city was correct in his judgment and the other officials all wrong, or vice versa. This made it necessary to investigate the matter on my own personal account, which I have done, and report as follows: From the contour map in the City Engineer's office I learn that the watershed sloping to the point named inclues some 23,000 acres. This, together with the fact that the river or creek during the recentrain, displayed a surface of water 120 feet wide, shows the utter inadequacy of a five-foot culvert, as surgested by the Mayor.

Another important fact, the Mayor's message, together with an estimate of earth to be used in the earthen approaches, would give the impression that the city, after building the bridge, would have to pay over $1000 for earthen approaches. The contract itself, then in the hands of the Mayor, clearly recites the fact that for $941 the party is to construct and erect a three-span wooden bridge with earth-work approaches. To guard against any misunderstanding on this point, I interviewed the contractor, and in the presence of other councilmen, he stated positively and definitely that he did expect to construct the earthwork approaches, that it was clearly stated in the contract, and that he expected to do the work.

Beileving that it is a very low bid and contract, and work.

Believing that it is a very low bid and that the bond is all that could be desired, I have signed the contract as requested.

I have the honor to remain, etc.

THE Santa Barbara Press tells us that its new library building is "Reminiscence" in style. Probably an architectural pot-pourri of bygone recollections.

THE character of the immigration t this country is rapidly changing, and not for the better. Until recently 50 per cent of the immigration to the United States was Irish, about 30 per cent German, and 20 per cent from va rious European nations. Now, th Irish immigration has almost ceased, and that from Italy, Austria, Hungary, Russia, Poland, Sweden and Norway is rapidly increasing. Most of these mmigrants formerly went West, but now about two-thirds of them remain in the New England and Middle States

IT is greatly to be hoped that the bill providing for the issuance of bonds for street paving be passed at this session of the Legislature Such a bill would be of almost incalculable benefit to Los Angeles. It would enable us to pave hundreds of streets, thus beautify ing the city, making it attractive, and at the same time giving employment to a large number of men. The Counoil yesterday, at the suggestion of McGarry, unanimously Councilman ordered a telegram sent to our repre sentatives at Sacramento, urging the immediate passage of the bill.

Some peculiar legislation is likely to proceed from the Farmers' Alliance, to judge from what some of its members have already proposed. An Alli ance representative has introduced bill in the Kansas House which provides that any person who will file petition in the District Court stating that he or she is of good moral charac ter, shall be permitted to practice law Why not declare every American citi zen and all the female relatives lawyers? It would amount to about the same thing, as there are comparatively few people who are not willing to de clare that they possess a good moral character. Such wild-eyed ideas as this will do much to shake public condence in the new movement.

ARIZONA UNDER WATER

The very name of Arizona suggests an arid country, but just now it badly belies its name. The Territory is pretty well souked. Yuma is almost entirely swept away, and for miles east of that city, along the Mohawk valley, nothing but water can be seen Phoenix has lost several hundred houses, Clifton has been threatened, and at last accounts the creeks in the neighborhood of Prescott were doing damage.

It does not take much of a flood to destroy the average Arizona house. The prevailing material for houses there is still the adobe or sun-baked brick-literally dried mud-although, during the past ten years, many ber houses and some of brick have been erected. The adobe remains popular because of its heat-resisting qualities, although it has the disadvantage of retaining the heat at night. This was formerly the general material used for building in Los Angeles, where many such structures may still be seen. Under moisture, this material of course easily dissolves. Even a heavy rainstorm will sometimes wear it away considerably, and it needs but a very gentle flood to cause a house to melt to the ground, unless a high stone foundation has been provided. This will account for the large number of houses that have gone down in some places.

The watercourses in Arizona, dry in summer, but raging torrents for a few hours or days in the rainy season, are of the same character as those with which we have to contend in this country. They are like runaway locomotives, very difficult to manage By erecting storage reservoirs at suitable places, an immense amount of water could be utilized on land that, with water, would produce good crops. The disastrous experience at Walnut Grove, near Prescott, shows, however, that the dams of such reservoirs must be very strongly constructed. The census reports give a little over sixty thousand acres as being under irrigation in Arizona, and it is stated that this is as much as can be irrigated without the construction of reservoirs. This is certainly a mistake. There is still a large acreage that can be irrigated from the streams, but the limit will soon be reached and then there will doubtless be a determined effort made to save some of the water that now runs to waste after every rainfall, often carrying devastation in its wake.

RELIGIOUS SECTS IN THE UNITED STATES

One of the departments of the census leals with statistics of the religious bodies of the United States. When com pleted, it will show what denominations are represented in the country and the number of congregations, ministers. church edifices and communicants of each, with the seating capacity and of all houses of wor-As there are upwards of value ship. one hundred and forty denominations besides many independent congregations, it will be seen that the task of gathering the required information has een a very extensive one. A preliminary bulletin has just been issued, giving statistics of fourteen of the denominations. From it we learn that the United Presbyterians number 94,402-by far the largest number of any denomination dealt with in this bulletin. It has 831 church edifices, with a seating capacity of 264,298, so that there is ample room for growth without building more churches just yet where any exist. The value of its church property is given as $5,408,084.

The Salvation Army, which is another of the organizations dealt with in this bulletin, has a membership of 8,662. It has but twenty-seven church edifices, with a seating capacity of 12, 055 and the value of its church property

The fact that there are over one hundred and forty religious denomi nations in this country, will be utilized by some as an argument against the Protestant religion, and in favor of other creeds which are uniform. This s a fallacious argument. Wherever there is deep thinking and enthusias tic conviction, there is difference of opinion. Death is uniform, but life ever varies. The differences between many of these sects are very trifling In essentials they are mainly agreed.

A NEW LAND BILL

The Senate and House have practi cally reached an agreement upon as entirely new land bill, which will be brought forward at the earliest opportutity. The bill will change the general land system of the Government in many important particulars. The Timber-culture Act will be repealed, but with a reservation in favor of bon fide claims already entered.

Following are some of the leading features of the bill:

In computing the period of cultivation or the claims already accrumg, provided the time shall run from date of entry, the neces-sary acts of cultivation performed within the proper time, preparation of land and planting of trees are to be construed as ac-tual cultivation.

Persons who have complied with provisiods of the Timber-culture Act for four years, may prove up their claims by payment of $1.25 an acre.

The Desert Land Act is amended by requiring the filing of a map showing the proposed method of reclamation, and no person shall receive patents for land under the act unless he has expended in the work of reclamation at least $\frac{3}{2}$ per acre, $\frac{3}{2}$ to be expended within each year. After four years the title may be secured by the payment of $\frac{3}{2}$ per acre.

ONE of the most important facts rerealed by the census is that the negro race, instead of increasing with great rapidity, has, in fact, been relatively falling off. During the last thirty years of slavery the negro population increased 90 per cent. During the first thirty years of freedom it has increased but 66 per cent. Commenting upon this fact the New York Commercial Advertiser says:

The responsibilities of pitizenship and complete self-dependence have already sensibly checked the operation of the animal law which formerly held sway. It is certain that as time goes on the neg oppopulation will become relatively less numerous and more prosperous.

The rain commenced again last evening about 7 o'clock, but up to midnight was not heavy enough to do any damage or relard the work of railroads in getting things in

People came and went as usual. There was not a hoof of stock drowned, nor a building swept away, and but few fences that had a gap washed through them in this immediate vicinity. A Bad Case Reported to Humane Of

Yesterday afternoon Humane Officer Wright swore out a complaint before Jus-tice Austin against a man named Gillette, charging him with indecent exposure, and warrant was issued for his arrest.

Gillette occupies rooms with his wife, a puritualist slate writer, in the Van Nuys slock on Main street near Fourth. There are quite a number of ladies rooming in are quite a number of ladies rooming in the building, and it is alleged that Gillette has, on a number of occasions indecently exposed his person to their daughters, the children ranging in age from 7 to 15 years.

A Times reporter visited the house last evening and interviewed several of the ladies whose children, it is alleged, Gillette has insuited. The ladies were very indignant over the matter, and insisted that if Gillette was not punished they would take the matter in their own hands. The mother of a little 7-year-old girl said that she asked Gillette about the matter, but he denied that it was intentional on his part. The matter, however spread among the inmates of the house, and when they found by comparing notes that other children had witnessed the same thing, they determined to call in the officers.

Gillette was not arrested last night. The officer visited his rooms several times, but neither he nor his wife were in. He will probably be arrested this morning. the building, and it is alleged that Gillett

Hatching Alligators.

Down in Florida they may not be able to grow oranges as, well as we can in California, but they have great ingenuity in starting new industries. Some time ago the demand among tourists for young alligators became so large that enough to supply it could not be caught. Somebody discovered that it was easier to find the eggs and hatch them in incubators. This has now become a quite flourishing little business, and the alligator supply is equal to all demands upon it, while prices in consequence show a downward tendency.

The committee's amendment appropriating $5000 for the reapportionment of Utah Territory, was reduced to $1000, and agreed to.

On motion of Mr. Sherman a new section was inserted changing the act of May 1882 so as to authorize the superintendents of the Mint and of the Assay Office in New York, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, (but not otherwise) to receive approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, (but not otherwise) to receive United States gold coin from any holder thereof in sums not less than $5000, and delivering in exchange thereof gold bars of equal value with a charge equal to the cost of manufacturing the bars.

The bill then passed.

The Pure-food Bill was taken up, and became unfinished business.

The Senate then went into executive session, after which Mr. Dawes asked unanimous consent to take up the Indian Appropriation Bill.

Mr. Vance objected, and Mr. Dawes then moved to take up the Indian Bill.

The House substitute was then agreed to—144 to 47.

The vote then recurring on ordering the Senate bill as amended by the substitute to third reading, the roll was called, amid intense excitement. As the call came to an end and it was known, that the motion had been defeated, there were many manifestations of pleasure on the Democratic side. At the last mement, however, Mr. Dingley changed his vote to the negative, and the Speaker announced the vote to be: Yeas, 142, nays, 148. The announcement was greeted with wild applause by the Democratis, and then Mr. Dingley moved to reconsider the vote, which Mr. McMillin promptly moved to table.

The motion was defeated—146 to 149—and the Republicans were jubilant. Then came the vote on the motion to reconsider. This was agreed to—148 to 143—and the question again recurred on ordering the bill to third reading. Third reading was ordered—yeas, 147; nays, 146.

By Telegraph to The Times.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—[By the Associated Press.] The conferees on the bill for the repeal of the timber culture law and amendatory of the land laws generally, have practically reached an agreement on an entirely new bill, which will be brought forward at the first opportunity. The subject matter of the bill has for the past two Congresses been in dispute between the House and the Senate, and for a leng time the conferees during this Congress failed to come to an understanding. The bill agreed upon will change the general land system of the Government. The bill first repeals the Timber-culture Act, but with a reservation in favor of bona fide claims heretofore initiated. In computing the period of cultivation on claims already accruing, it is provided that the time shall run from the date of entry.

The necessary acts of splitter times that the The necessary acts of cultivation per-formed within the proper time, the preparation of the land and the planting of trees will be construed as actual cultivation. title may be secured by payment of $1 per acre.
Section 2288 Revised Statutes is amended so that any bona fide settler may have the right to transfer any portion of his claim for a right of way for irrigation purposes, as well as for church, cemetery, railroad or school purposes. The preëmption law is also repealed, except as to preëmptions by counties under special law. Section 2289 is amended so that persons already holding 160 acres of land, or who abandon their residence or their own land shall not have the right to make homestead entry. Entries are own and shall not have the right to make homestead entry. Eutries are to be suspended for the correction of perioal errors. The United States is stopped from the vacation of any jatent on claims heretofore initiated, tuless suit is brought within five years, and on future claims within six years. It is provided that in Coloride. The President is given the right to set apart and reserve, in any Territory, forest lands as public reservations and not subject to entry. This will meet the principal aim of what is known as the Yellowstone Park Bill.

WASHINGTON NOTES.

Provisions of the Shipping Bill Passed by the House.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—[By the Associated Press.] The Shipping Bill, as passed by the House, is radically different from the Senate measure. It merely authorizes the Postmaster-General to enter into such contracts for not less than five nor more than ten years, with American citizens, for carrying the mails on American steamships between United States ports and foreign ports, those of Canda excepted, as will subserve and promote the postal and commercial interests of the United States; the mail service to be equitably distributed among the Atlantic, Mexican, Gulf and Pacific Coast ports. The vessels contracted with must be of American build and officered by American citi-

SAN FRANCISCO MARKETS.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 27.—[Special to THE TIMES.] Trade was generally active this morning in the produce market, and dealers were cheerful on account of the increased raim. Butter and cheese were a tride lower and less active, while eggs steadied up somewhat. Poultry was stronger, although the receipts were heavier than they have been for some time past. The potato market is at a standstill. Fruits green and dried and nuts are quiet.

The wheat market was strong at yesterday's quotations. There was a good demand for export grades. Although cargo quotations are no higher they are tending upward. The barley market was somewhat weaker and prices were somewhat lower. The out market it becoming more settled. Other cereals are weak.

the late copious outpouring of the "gentle rain from heaven."

An elaborate lunch was most beautifully served. The table was artistically decorated with wild popples and ferns. After having lunched, the rugs were taken up, and music and dancing were enjoyed for a time. The party was then grouped upon the south verands and was photographed by Mr. Harry Green, who is somewhat of an adept in the mystery of photographed by Mr. Harry Green, who is somewhat of an adept in the mystery of photographed by Mr. Then after a stroil about the ample, ever-delightful grounds that surround this ideal home, and into the orange and leann orchards, the party, after one of the most delightful of days spent in a most charming way, started for home, feeling satisfied that Col. Green is the prince of entertainers and Mrs. Green is an ideal hostess.

An incident somewhat distressing happened to one of the ladies who met it was the first speaker. He paid an eloquent tribute to the beloved Sherman, whom he classed with Grant and Sheridan as the three greatest generals this country has ever proproduced. Grant was referred to as the great moving power of the war, Sheridan was said to excel as a cavalry officer, and Sherman was accredited to be the greatest field officer of the illustrious trio. Col. Grover was called upon to speak on the late admirst. Sheridan was said to excel as a cavalry officer, and Sherman was accredited to be the greatest field officer of the illustrious trio. Col. Grover was called upon to speak on the late admiral. Not having prepared a speech, he read in an entertaining manner an interesting article on Admiral Porter, contained in a recent issue of The Times.

Maj. Hogin next spoke, confining its remarks to Post-Commander Staples and emphasizing the loss the department sustained in his death. Capt. Simpson next read a most excelient paper on Col. James E. Place, a late lamented comrade of the Post. The paper contained many interesting personal reminiscences, and was an eloquent tribute to the many virtues of the deceased, both as a citizen and soldier.

eager and early risers yesterday morning. The eccasion of the promptitude and anticipation being the trip to Col. Green's delightful home in the footisfactory carryalls from Vone & Hoag's and Wiley & Greely's stables, the one drawn by four the other the one drawn by four the other by six horses, the party arrived an hour later at the residence of Col. Green in Altadena, as whose invited guests they came. Col. Green, his son, Harry Green, his two charming daughters and brother-in-law, Ben Brown, there joined the party, and the family carriage was found necessary to accommodate them. Kodaks and field glasses were everywhere. Arriving at the foot of the trail at Rubio Canon the party allghred to climb up the winding paths on the mountain sides. A nerve test was soon applied to the members of the party as a long and narrow foot-bridge mountain sides. A nerve test was soon applied to the members of the party as a long and narrow foot-bridge (really the boxing inclosing the water pipe) at the mouth of a little cafion had to be crossed. The distance from the bridge to the bottom of the jungle is about sixty feet, and at most the bridge itself is not more than a foot wide and is without railing. After some time spent in dreading to make the somewhat hazardous attempt, the most of the party decided to do the do-or-die act. After they had gotten well across, the remainder discovered that there was a trail leading around, and one of the young ladies volunteered to "distinguish" herself by going around instead of across. The others followed her lead—a somewhat more safe, but much less venturesome manner of mountaineering.

The ascent up the mountain trail proved rather wearisome, and after aclimb of about one thousand feet, it was voted to descend and go into the shady and beguilling mountain stream.

Forns and flowers were sought out, each member being determined to have a souvenir from nature's fastnesses to commemorate the trip that had been so fruitful of joy and gladness. The water was sparkling and pure and somewhat more plentiful because of the party was served there and curios; Eastern novelties a specialty. Build a Railroad.
An indignant Pasadenian has sent in the following:

"Pasadena needs a railroad of its own to Los Angeles. The action of the Santa Fé shows that it does not care was an eloquent tribute to the many virtues of the deceased, both as a citizen and soldier.

Other brief addresses followed. Excellent music was furnished during the evening by a quartette composed, of Mrs. Eldenberger, Miss Holmes, Messrs. White and Brown.

Review in English History, Prof. Hammond. Give name of rulers from Henry VII. to the present time, naming some traits of character and important incidents in their reign; music by a ladies' quartette; character guessing by circle, each member to describe some important personage without giving the name; roll-call to be answered by naming-the character each one ropresents; lesson in English literature by Mrs. Holmes; music, ladies' quartette; critic's report, Mrs. Johnston.

With the Majority.
Mrs. S. C. Broad, whose funeral was held on Thursday afternoon, was a most estimable woman, and the news of her death will make sad many friends both in this city and Minneapolis, her former home for many years. She was mer home for many years. She was 70 years and 6 months old and had resided here since 1887.

She was a great sufferer during the last 32 years of her life, but endured her lot with wonderful resignation.

The funeral was in charge of Rev. Dr. Bresee and Rev. Mr. Bunker, and was attended by many friends. The floral offerings were abundant and beautiful.

Coroner Weldon yesterday held an inquest on the body of the young lad who was drowned at Santa Monica Thursday afternoon. The facts brought out were as follows: The deceased, William Wright, aged 17 years, in company with William H. Rogers, a lad of about his own age, a brother of Mrs. R. R. Tanner, succeeded in borrowing a skiff from Dr. Rogers, who, before he would toan the boat to the boys, questioned them as to their ability to handle a boat. They finally convinced the doctor that they were fully able to manage the same, and started at about 2p. m. After rowing about for an hour or two they started home. When they reached the breakers, not being able to keep the boat straight, the waves began to break over the boat, and Wright was washed overboard. But Mr. Doyle Falls to Come to Time -The Proposed Contract or Agreement to Govern the Contest.

The statement published in THE TIMES yesterday morning, concerning the per-formance of Annic Abbott, by Manage Doyle, and his willingness to wager a co Doyle, and his willingness to wager a cool 5500, created considerable excitement among a great many who witnessed the performance Thursday evening at the Los Angeles Theater. Mrs. Abbott's manager was up bright and early, and called at The Times office, where he left $500 in cash, calling later and leaving the following draft of an agreement to govern the proposed contest, in case Mr. Doyle made the necessary denosit:

ccessary deposit:
Los Angeles, Feb. 27, 1891.—This in donture or ricice, is a contract between Charles A. Doyle and R. N. Abbott, for a purse of 81000, to be made up equally be-tween said Doyle and Abbott, which is based upon the attached clipping from the Los ANGELES TIMES of even date here-based upon the attached clipping from the Los Angelles Times of even date herewith, towit:

"Mr. Doyle, proprietor of the Dime Museum, is anxious to prove that the "phenomenal power" of Mrs. Abbott, "the Georgia wonder," is only a trick, and says that he will put up a deposit of $500, to be forfeited if he cannot in twenty-four hours teach any wom in, to be selected by a committee, or by himself, to perform any "test" given by Mrs. Abbott, or, in other words, to duplicate her performance. Last night Mrs. Boyle, without any preparation, performed a number of acts of Mrs. Abbott in the presence of several gentlemen, most of whom had witnessed Mrs. Abbott. He says he will deposit the money today, in case his challenge is accepted."

Now, it is hereby agreed that some disinterested lady shall be selected by the committee, who shall not exceed in weight that of Mrs. Abbott. This lady shall go on the stage of the Los Angeles Theatre, at Mrs. Abbott's exhibition. The committee to assist in these tests, etc., is to be selected by Messrs. Wyatt and Conant, who shall be final.

The lady so selected shall then and there.

Times clipping above, duplicate Mrs. Abbots of withintion. The committee to assist in these tests, etc., is to be selected by Messrs. Wyatt and Conant, who shall also select an umpire whose decision shall be final.

The lady se selected shall then and there, to-wit: Saturday evening as above, duplicate Mrs. Annie Abouts' sentire exhibition, which she must do in exactly the same manner as done by Mrs. Abbott. The management of the whole exhibition is to be conducted by said Abbott.

Said Abbott shall have Mrs. Abbott do a number and then h ve the lady undertake to "duplicate" it. Upon the first failure by the said lady to do so she shall retire from the stage, which will end the contest, and Mrs. Abbott continue her usual exhibition. But if each number is exactly duplicated by the said lady, in the precise way and manner as done by Mrs. Abbott, then she shall be declared the victor. It is further agreed that Col. H. G. Offs, who is stakeholder, shall pay over to the party in whose favor the contest is decided, his five hundred doilars, and that he shall turn over the other five hundred doilars to the Mayor of this city, who in turn shall donate the same to some charitable institution of Los Angeles.

Mr. Doyle was notified that the $500 deposit of Mr. Abbott was waiting to be covered, but he failed to put in an appearance up to last evening with his coin.

About 13 o'clock, however Mr. Doyle gave an exhibition at a hall om Main street, where his wife went through a few of the simple tests given Mrs. Abb. th, explaining, however, that she had not practiced them sufficiently, she said, to give their perfectly and that she did not have the muscular power to do it. Mr. Doyle stated at the exhibition that he had written to Mrs. Abbott's manager to make an engagement for his attempts to "expose the tricks."

Mrs. Abbott's manager stated last evening the strength of having exposed Lululiurst, which he said had never been done. Mrs. Abbott's calm of having exposed Lululiurst, which he said had never been done. Mrs. Abbo

PRACTICAL TESTS.

The San Francisco papers of recent date con-tained the following offer:—
"As an evidence of the ability of Joy's Vege-table Sarsaparilla to prevent sick headaches, we will give to the first twelve responsible persons who will apply at our office a bottle free if they will agree that after their headaches have been cured that they will affirst the fact over their signatures."

This offer so startlingly asserted the efficiency

This offer so startlingly asserted the efficiency of the remedy that many accepted, and the letters of the parties, nearly all of whom responded, are probably the most convincing attestations that any remedy ever received. The following is a sample of those received:

I have been subject to billous headaches and soustipation for several years past; in fact, have been compelled to take, a physic every other night or else I would have a headache and dult, mean feeling. I have taken that bettle of Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla, and have derived great benefit from it, and intend continuing it. After my own experience I can heartily advise those troubled with billousness and constipation to try it.

Yours.
